

Hello parents, carers and children

I hope that you and your families are well; you are all in our thoughts each day.

Your teachers loved seeing you all when they dropped off your resource packs; I hope they will help you in your learning. It has been lovely to see all of the wonderful work that has been happening during homeschooling this week. Keep trying your best to complete the activities that your teachers set you.

I am looking forward to seeing the art work and hearing the wonderful singing from the children who have responded to Mrs Parker's VE Day project. Remember tomorrow is VE Day and officially a bank holiday, so we are all having a holiday from homeschooling!

Have a lovely weekend everyone.
Take care and stay safe.

Mrs Butt
